Adrian Pradhan (born August 18) is an Indian vocalist, composer and songwriter in Nepalese music. He was born and raised in Kalimpong, India. He is a leading member of the 1974 Nepalese rock band AD. [1] [2] [3] [4] [5] Pradhan was the band's lead singer until March 2015, after which Rohit John Chhaetra filled out his absence. Pradhan's musical journey began during his school years at St. Augustine's School, Calimpong, where he was a member of the school choir. The mouth organ and keyboard were his first instruments, and he took the guitar in 1989 and switched to drums in 1995. His first band was Eurika, where the basis of his music career was laid. He later participated in the flames group, which toured India and was featured in Sun Magazine (Indian Edition). Since 1974, Ad Pradhan joined ours in 1974 as a pianist. Together with one-club man Firoj Shiangden, he was the band's frontman and did vocals, playing drums and harmonica. Original duo In 2016, Pradhan reunited with former 1974 AD band member Firoj Shiangden called The Original Duo. [6] They toured five U.S. states in 2016, Nepal, great Britain, Australia in 2017-18[8][9] and will expand their tour to Hong Kong, Dubai and Abu Dhabi. Picture Credit: The 1974 AD Facebook page of 1974 AD, which rocked the Nepalese music scene for the past 26 years, is one of the greatest bands, if not the greatest, of all time. Founded by Nirakar Iachtumba and Firoj Sianden of BhanU A (who later left the band) in the early 90s, the band later had Adrian Pradhan, Sanjay Shrestha, Manoya QC and Manoze Singh as major members. The band's popularity on better days was so high that they held one of the biggest concerts at Dasharath Stadium in 2002 called Rock Yatra, with an estimated 60,000 participants. The band went through a rough patch when Firoj Zijanden left the band in 2012 and later Adrian Pradhan in 2015. The remaining members sought to continue the band by adding talented new members such as Rohit singer John Chetri, pianist Praival Muhiya, and a new horn section with Pratik Bania in trombone and Jacko Vachko in the Tube. Branding the move #thenewlineup, the band released their ninth album, Hazaar Sapana, in 2016. The band reunited with original members in 2019 after a brief break for 4 years and released their tenth studio album, Nirantarta in November 2019, with songs such as Saani ko (relaussed with Phiroj Syangden), Maya Bissaune Chautari and Manche ko Jeewan receiving positive critical ratings from critics and fans. To celebrate the band's successful music career and the joy of reuniting them as fans, here you have the 13 best songs of this famous band.
